CHIEF OF POLICE SLAYER IS GIVEN LIFE PRISON TERM

Court Adjourns Till Monday;
Cook Draws 10-Year
Sentence

Last of the murder trials of the January term of the Floyd circuit court ended Saturday morning with the conviction of D. (Monny) Burke and his sentence to life imprisonment for the murder at Weeksbury of Chief of Police S. J. Murphy.

The February term of the court was convened Monday morning, and the new petit jury discharged until next Monday. During this week Judge Caudill will hear equity cases.

Burke, who shot and killed Chief of Police Murphy with a bullet from a high powered rifle while the officer was inside the Weeksbury lock-up after arresting and jailing a half brother of Burke, testified that the officer first fired on him. His testimony was corroborated by his half brother and another prisoner.

The prosecution produced testimony showing that Burke left his home following the arrest of his half brother, threatening the lives of the members of his wife and young daughter to Sheriff M. T. Stumbo and deputies to this effect were testified to by members of the sheriff's force.

Curtis Cook, youthful slayer of his former teacher, Seward Cook, was given a 10-year pen term Friday. Judge J. F. Bailey of Johnson county presided as special judge when Judge Caudill disqualified.

DENIES INJUNCTION IN SCHOOL ACTION

Circuit Judge John W. Caudill in an opinion handed down Saturday denied the injunction sought by Richard Spurlock, Heber Burke, W. P. Coyer and Cecil Kendrick, to restrain H. F. Patton, etc., from serving as members of the Prestonsburg board of education.

The case is being taken to the court of appeals, it was said this week by counsel for the plaintiffs.

Taking of depositions in the county board of education contest case was being completed this week by the plaintiffs, and the defense then will have several days in which to record testimony.

HOME, LOCALLY OWNED, DESTROYED BY FLAMES

The old home owned by the Richmond estate at the mouth of Brush Creek, near Boso, was destroyed by fire at daybreak Monday, together with practically all its contents. Loss is estimated at $2,000.

The structure was occupied by Can Martin and family at the time of the fire. Cause of the blaze was not stated here, but it was said that the fire is believed to have started in the kitchen. The Martin family saved only a small quantity of bed clothing. Along with the household effects, the family lost a supply of meat and other foodstuffs.

IS HONOR STUDENT

Miss Grace Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Francis, of Martin, is one of the 44 students of Morehead State Teachers' College who achieved the honor roll of the school during the first semester, it is announced by the registrar's office of the college. Students must have an average of "B" or better to attain this rating.

Mrs. G. W. Bailey was taken to the Marting hospital, Ironton, O., for treatment. She was accompanied by Mrs. Bailey and Miss Ruth Burnett. Mrs. Bailey has been ill for some time, and her condition shows little, if any, improvement.

HUEYSVILLE MAN SUFFERS WOUND

Special to The Times
Hueysville, Ky., Feb. 4.—Bogey Shepherd, 21 years old, of Salt Lick creek, near here, is in a serious condition at his home from a bullet wound in his left thigh suffered Sunday night when he accidentally discharged a pistol on which he was working. Dr. Mark Dempsey, of Garrett, said the bone of Shepherd's leg was not touched by the bullet but that an artery had been severed and the victim is suffering severely from loss of blood.

Shepherd had purchased the gun only a few days ago, it is reported, and was trying to repair some part of it while it was loaded, when it was accidentally discharged.

COURT POSTPONES BUILDING DECISION

February 11 Set as Date for Fiscal Court Action;
Plans Studied

Definite action toward contracting for the construction of a new courthouse, or the enlargement and remodeling of the present building, was deferred by the fiscal court Saturday until Tuesday, February 11, when it is announced, the court will make its final decision.

Three firms of architects already have consulted with the court and submitted tentative plans and cost estimates. Postponement of final action to February 11 is designed to give all architects in this area an opportunity to submit plans and figures. Attendance of Magistrate M. C. Wright, who has been absent from the fiscal court meetings since the courthouse fire here, will also be sought for the February 11 meeting. Latest plan to be presented to the court is that of a Huntington architect who proposes enlargement and remodeling of the building. This plan provides for retention of walls of the present building.

TACKETT NAMED TO RULES COMMITTEE

Senator Joe P. Tackett, serving his first term in the General Assembly, has been appointed to the important Rules Committee of the Senate.

Senator Tackett's bill to make inadequate damages grounds for a new trial passed the Senate Jan. 30, by a vote of 23 to 8.

Representative Mel Petry, of this county, is chairman of the committee on Minerals and Oils, and is one of the group of legislators taking an important part in the mine scrip bill fight.

Union Grocery Company Stock Moved From Here

Stock of the Union Grocery Company, branch of the Sandy Valley Grocery Company, was moved from Prestonsburg over the weekend to Paintsville. The store was located in the Odd Fellows' building and was under the management of W. H. Williams. Two other branch stores of the company have been eliminated since January 1, it was reported here.

The company is moving its main office from Paintsville to Ashland, it was announced this week.

EUREKA WOMAN SAYS DAUGHTER MISSING

Mrs. Mollie Green, of Eureka, Tuesday reported that her daughter, Miss Amarda Green, 17 years old, is unaccountably missing. She said that the girl was last seen in Prestonsburg Monday night, Jan. 27, after having been a court witness here.

Mrs. Green described her daughter as having brown hair, blue eyes, weighing about 120 pounds, five feet, 10 inches tall, wearing a green dress, brown hat and brown checkered coat. The mother will be grateful for any information concerning the whereabouts of her daughter.

First Courthouse Fire Followed By Work of Restoring Records

Damage by fire of the courthouse here a few days ago recalls Floyd county's earlier courthouses, and search of old records in the office of County Clerk A. B. Meade reveals that more than a century and a quarter ago a commission was working to restore records destroyed in the county's first courthouse fire.

On May 2, 1808, the Floyd circuit court entered an order for this work to be done following a fire which had destroyed the county's first courthouse and the earliest records of the county. The order was entered "pursuant to an act of the General Assembly of December 27, 1803, entitled 'An Act for the Relief of Persons Who May Have Been or May Be Injured by the Destruction of the Records of Any Court.'"

Harry Stratton, John Spurlock and Cornelius McGuire were appointed commissioners to receive proof of missing documents, and this task required several weeks' work. William James Mayo was clerk for the commission, and it was at his home that meetings were held. The commissioners and clerk were sworn in by Thomas Evans, justice of the peace.

NO SERIOUS MISHAPS DESPITE TREACHEROUS CONDITION OF ROADS

Though all highways in this section have been in a treacherous condition since winter closed down on this section before Christmas, no fatalities have occurred in this county from automobile wrecks.

After a slight thaw Sunday and the freeze during the night, highways were in probably their worst condition Monday morning. At Betsy Layne two or three cars were in the ditch and a long string of other autos were temporarily detained. On Abbott mountain Sunday afternoon a salesman's auto slid from the highway and into the steel cable at the roadside. Though the car was almost half over the edge of the highway, headed down the mountain side, the driver escaped injury and his machine was not badly damaged.

The Crown Remains
Veterans Reach the Top
The Useful Red Cross Oxygen Is Life
Behind the gray walls of Windsor castle, on the hill, above the school, where young England learns disciplines and cricket, King George's coffin was lowered into the vault to its bedside his father, King Edward VII, and his grandmother, Queen Victoria.

The services were broadcast, new feature of a royal funeral. The simple Church of England burial service, read by the Archbishop of Canterbury, was heard far over the earth, wherever Britain's 400,000,000 subjects live.

Veterans having successfully climbed the long, long road, the government began the biggest "pay-off" job in history, the printing of two billion four hundred million dollars' worth of bonds, to be distributed among 3,518,191 World War veterans.

Interesting news from Ethiopia sent by an American correspondent says the residence of Haile Selassie is now on the roof of a large red cross, although it has nothing to do with the Red Cross. Associated Press made news of a Swedish "held hospital," captured by Italians in the South, carrying ammunition on five trucks adorned with Red Cross flags and insignia.

The "Red in the Face," according to an old Hebrew saying, and oxygen is the life of the blood. No oxygen means death in three minutes or less; too little oxygen means premature death, inferior health, mania, etc.

All five walk, all have gained weight during the past month, and have new teeth. Amette has three new ones, twelve in all. All have beautiful big eyes, high foreheads, pretty faces and look as fresh as the Marcellinas get plenty of oxygen, but aren't up to snuff.

Lloyd George says the new King, Edward VII, has the magnificence of his grandfather, Edward VII; that he comes to the throne with such great troubles ahead as few kings have ever encountered, but "his courage and his sure instinct will not fail him."

O. K. Allen Huey—Long's governor of Louisiana, died of a cerebral hemorrhage. He remained in succession to Senator Long, leader of the Long party, a short time only. Perhaps they are together now, both aware that nothing happening on this little earth is important; that Long's wondering why he made such a fuss about it.

Mr. John Moran of Milwaukee, called by his fellow workers "Soda Ash Johnny," first used soda ash to clean locomotive boilers, a discovery that would have made him rich, but did not.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Middle Age and Feeble-mindedness.
CULVER CITY.—Especially to those nearing middle age—the age when you begin to exchange your emotions for symptoms—It's gratifying to hear a New York scientist has hit on a formula for really feeble-mindedness. If he's right, the operation will only begin to hurt when you get the bill. Time was when you could hang onto your stately ruins until there was English try growing on the Nowadays, no matter what ails you, they X-ray your teeth, which is a mistake to begin with, because I never yet saw an X-ray photograph that was flattering. And the Irvin S. Cobb, next thing you know, you've a taste in your mouth like a drugstore and your face looks like an old-fashioned buckskin purse, with the drawing coming and going and your feet, feels as getting up a haunted house.

Still, getting the upper plate from a small older house has its compensations. It's not so long as the others in the plate. Just a slight smell of burning rubber—that's all. And a beautiful brilliant new set, shimmering from a tumbler of water alongside the reading lamp, certainly does brighten up the boudoir.

A Tree Maker of Melodies.
THEREY gave a dinner here to the son of a desperately poor farmer and a modest, kindly little man who started life as a singing waiter in a bawdy barroom. The dinner celebrated his after service as a maker of melodies. It has been just 25 years since he set the toes of the nation to tingling with "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

I can think of an occasional popular composer, who might be defined as a person who has a good memory and hopes no one else has; that at some time—and that this is a trade secret—you strike a writer who is getting by not because he is such a good writer, but because he has been such a slow reader.

But for Irving Berlin, it may be said that his lyrics are his own and his are his own and his ideas are his own. Maybe that's why his tuneful output is so good—it reflects the spirit of an authentic creator, a genuine mindread.

The Great Republican Hope.
I NEVER thought the stock market would be slacker, but neither in Arizona nor in New Mexico can I find trace of an authentic Presidential hope for any home-grown statesman. On the other hand, the sheep crop is reported good.

Maybe it's just as well. Already there has been more than one favorite son boom that reminded me of a new truck store on a side street—you know, the kind that always opens with a grand closing-out sale.

Republicans here speak highly of Governor Landon of Kansas. Still, you never can tell if you can believe what the Sunday papers print when the editors can't think of anything else, they always follow with the things diamond or digging into King Tut's tomb. But being endorsed for office by W. R. Hearst is pretty fatal, too, seems to me.

A New Kind of Inflation.
WHEN one of the New Deal groups—the President's consumer council—announced the other day the Americans have larger hips than formerly, I just said: "Well, I'm glad things are expanding. There we've several years when nothing I owned showed a tendency to go up except my blood pressure, and if hips are spreading, it merely means wider detours for a fellow when dancing on a crowded floor."

A few bright colored flower pots, with a narcissus bulb planted in each, set on the table will add to the living room, will, when the bulbs blossom, give color and decoration to the room.
Iodine stains may be removed from white cotton or linen if stains are soaked in a solution of ammonia and water, a teaspoon of ammonia to a pint of water.

Don't heat fudge as soon as it is taken from the fire. You will find it.
Our Postal Boxes
Instead of complaining about the three-cent postal rate we should be glad rates are not as high as before the stamp came into use. Then the mail charges were paid according to distance. Will No One Over Just Yet a Bitter, Is Spirit of Scott

I am about knocked out of time now; a miserable, snuffling, shivering, fever-stricken, night-mare-tossed, knee-jittering, hoarse-throated, shadowy and restless of man. But we'll no give over just yet a little. We've seen war; and God, man, it's my belief that we'll see better.

Always use standard phosphate in gelatin mixtures. If fresh phosphate is used the mixture will not congeal.

Cursed by Blessings

The following from The Courier, Journal is of especial sentiment to Floyd County:

"The Kentucky Packers, Inc., Paintsville, capitalized at $50,000, was granted a charter today by Charles D. Arnett, Secretary of State."

It suggests the notion that Floyd county has, after a fashion, been cursed by its blessings of rich natural resources.

Floyd county is rich in coal and gas. For years we only touched the surface, tilling corn crop after corn crop until much of the strength of our soil was gone; peeling back the wooded hillsides for "new grounds"; cutting and slashing, right and left, for timber for outside markets until the expression, "Kentucky mountain forest," is like the little red schoolhouse—it just "aht."

Then John C. C. Mayo and others opened up the coal business. Gas development followed. And these two, aside from unprofitable farming, compose our industries.

These natural resources have been blessings. But their very richness has dwarfed all other endeavor to the point that they may be curses in disguise.

Floyd county sadly lacks diversity of industry and originality of enterprise.

On the other hand, Johnson county, on our northern border, is not so richly endowed with natural gifts. It started as Floyd did, with farming by the bit and, miss method its principal industry, Tim-bering also played its part. Coal and oil and gas also have had no minor role in the life of the county. But these resources have not been so great that they have stifled all other endeavor.

Johnson county business men have gone farther ahead. They have organized wholesale firms dealing in foodstuffs, commodities, gasoline and other products. Floyd county's former wholesale grocery houses were branches of a Paintsville firm. The only livestock market in this section is in Johnson.

And now—a packing firm. In Paintsville or nearby—not in Prestonsburg or Floyd county.

That sounds like a rather serious indictment of Floyd county. It is. Not because The Times would present this county in unfavorable contrast with another, but because these are facts.

And, again, because they are unpleasant facts about which something can be done. In this vicinity are numerous sites for factories, small or large. Water power is at hand, fuel at our very door. The county needs new industry.

We let one of the world's largest gas compressor stations go into Pike county, simply because our neighbors tendered greater inducements than Floyd was willing to offer. We have lost heavily in taxes ever since while Pike has profited.

Some day we should awaken to opportunity which does not have a habit of knocking twice on anybody's door.
